HISTORY OF THE NATIONAL CONGRESS OF STATE GAMES

The National Congress of State Games (NCSG) was created in 1986 to serve as the official association of State Games organizations around the nation. The NCSG exists to strengthen and promote State Games in member states and assist in developing State Games in states where none exist. The NCSG also works with National Governing Bodies (NGB's) and other sports organizations to develop and/or improve particular sports across the country.

The State Games movement began with New York's Empire State Games in 1978 and has grown to include 29 Summer State Games and 10 Winter State Games with over 265,000 athletes, 30,000 volunteers, and thousands of spectators annually. State Games provide a motivational goal for all amateur athletes within the state they are organized. The mission of the NCSG is to support State Games member organizations in the promotion of health, fitness and character building through multi-sport competitions and physical activity.

The NCSG is a member of the United States Olympic and Paralympic Committee (USOPC) Affiliate Organizations Council and has received the USOPC Rings of Gold and the International Olympic Committee's (IOC) Sport for All award. Since 1978, State Games have become one of the most celebrated and anticipated events of the year for athletes of all ages and abilities to achieve their fitness goals, improve their self-esteem and develop a sense of personal and state pride.

State Games of America is a property of the National Congress of State Games which is an Olympic-style event featuring competition between State Games medal winners (gold, silver, and bronze) from across the nation.
